

PCRI Presents
AdMeTech Foundation's Dance For a Cure Featuring
“Dancing with the Stars” Celebrities

Photo Courtesy of Jonathan Roberts

The Prostate Cancer Research Institute at this year's Saturday Night Dinner Gala is excited to present AdMeTech Foundation's Dance For A Cure of Prostate Cancer – a public awareness campaign dedicated to creating Manogram™ and supported by many celebrities of the ABC's Dancing with the Stars. Dance for a Cure will feature a LIVE performance by Jonathan Roberts and Anna Trebunskaya, professional cast members of the TV megahit show. After their performance, Anna and Jonathan will be available to the PCRI and AdMeTech's guests for a “meet and greet”, photo and autograph signing opportunities. For anyone interested, an introductory dance lesson will be offered (no partner or experience needed).

To prepare you for this wonderful evening, visit the official website of Jonathan and Anna. There, you can learn more about their careers and passion for dancing.
<http://www.jonathanrobertsdancer.com/> To learn more about AdMeTech and Dance for a Cure, visit www.admetech.org.

The Saturday Night Dinner Gala will also feature the presentation of the annual Harry Pinchot Award recognizing “unsung heroes who are making a difference in other people's lives”. The PCRI Catalyst Award will also be presented to a person who “has shown a history of leadership, philanthropic involvement and educational commitment within the field of prostate cancer”.

It's going to be a wonderful evening that you won't want to miss! Tickets can be purchased for $50 with your registration or by calling the PCRI office at 310-743-2117. Space is limited!